

the insurer, employer and attorney more specific guidelines in resolution of an injured worker's claim. It is my view that the limited impairment benefits system authorized by C.S.S.B. 1 is insufficient to effect meaningful resolution of this issue.

While differences exist in view upon other provisions of C.S.S.B. 1, I have often voted for legislation with which I had differences. Such is the legislative process, and rarely does one get the "whole pie" that a legislator might desire.

Again, I commend the authors of C.S.S.B. 1 for their efforts in meaningful resolution and compromise of many of these controversial issues. I pledge my efforts to continue to work with them to resolve the differences herein referenced which I believe will become the principal differences between the two houses of the legislature.
